On the eve of the National Demonstration in London to demand that the troops be brought home from Afghanistan we are holding this Discussion Forum. If you are able to come to the demonstration, or not, this is a chance to get together to discuss the work of the anti-war movement to bring the troops home and continue our discussion on our plans to block another pro-war government from coming to power.

Through the heartache and mourning of hundreds of soldiers families in Britain and the US to the many hundred thousand families of those killed and maimed by the Anglo US "war on terror" the truth is well known inspite of the spin put out by the big parties and media alike that this war is to defeat terrorism. The big lie now being told is that this war, which is killing hundreds of Afghans and Pakistanis every month, is to "make Britain and the world a safer place." In the modern world how can these monsters get away with the utter fascist logic that our security lies in killing hundreds of Afghans and Pakistanis every month. When governments and media lie thousands die.

The issue facing the people of Britain as well as other countries is how stop this carnage now and bring all troops home from foreign soil. Our vision that inspires us is that another world is possible. A world where the people of our countries, of Scotland, Wales and England and our communities make the decisions so that we have control over the foreign policy to withdraw Britain from the aggressive military alliances with the United States and others and implement a foreign policy to resolve international conflicts through peaceful means and where international law is upheld which forbids war and the invasion of sovereign countries as a crime against the peace.

The fight for an anti-war government starts now. The demand that the troops are brought home from Afghanistan and Iraq. The outlawing of the stationing of our troops on foreign soil. We call for the people to make preparations to block the plans to elect another pro-war government. Contact us now. Join in the Forum and other activities or simply join our email contact list and get first hand information on the work of the anti-war movement.
